Newsletter "Pageupdate" - 18.01.2007

Since the release of the fourth version of mousesports.com it still was our aim to enhance the website and to accommodate it to our users' expectations. Your criticism on our page was indeed a factor which is still worth to be considered, no matter if you emailed us or wrote your complaints as a comment on the page, therefore we worked in particular on improving the layout, as well as several other bugs. Additionally one can now distinguish between threads which are exclusively for Backstage members and those who are open for everyone. Another improvement was to adjust the scoreboard upwards in order to have a better overview: FPS matches can be found in the left column, the rest in the right one. Moreover there are several graphical updates on the entire page.
