

Newsletter "mousesports introduces the 2007 Counter-Strike team" - 01.01.2007

The moment everyone has been waiting for has come! The new line-up is complete and ready to be introduced to the public. 2007, Blizzard, gore, Kapio, silver and Tixo will frag for mousesports! To dignify this event, we have prepared an extensive Team Introduction for you. You will find a description and an interview of each player. Furthermore our CS team manager answered a couple of questions - Interview with django.

But that's not all, because mouz!live has also prepared something for you. In an impressive short movie, the new team will be presented in an unprecedented way. Special feature: The movie is free to download for all users and we invite others to host it on their website!

The new year has begun. We have to say good-bye to three players who were with us during the last year. Roman, fleks and neo will leave us and try their luck elsewhere. After a rather disappointing year 2006, we needed to draw a line and undertake serious changes. Players like element or re-activating legends like Johnny R. did not bring the desired success. Of course, mousesports is very thankful to the players who have been with us. Especially Roman R. and neo who have played under the roof of mousesports for years have deserved respect and gratitude. We also do not forget fleks who was not part of the team as long as the others but he has always displayed loyalty to us and gave his best for mouz during good and bad times.

But now let's get to the part we are all looking forward to: The new Counter-Strike team which will play for mousesports in and hopefully beyond 2007. From the old squad, only the mouz veterans Blizzard and gore will remain. Both of them have shown in the past how important they are for the team's success. They will now be acquainted with three top players who have proven that they truly belong to the best players both nationally and internationally. We are of course talking about Kapio, Tixo and silver!

Of course, the new faces are not unknown, all of them having performed very well while playing for aT-TaX in 2006. This is one of the advantages of the new team: Blizzard and gore know each other very well and have played together for several years and Kapio, Tixo and silver have a common history, too. This will make the acclimatization period much shorter than it would be for a completely new team. In addition, the team will be able to practice in a LAN facility in Cologne, Germany. The team shares these premises with the world-renowned clan SK Gaming and can prepare for tournaments or important matches with bootcamps.

Navid "Kapio" Javadi will replace Christian "Blizzard" Chmiel as team captain. Navid has proven in the past that he was born for this task. His tactical overview and his motivation ability enjoy (and deserve) outstanding reputation. Tim, Manuel and Navid will bring a lot of new, fresh wind to mousesports, so we are all looking forward to this year. Let's go!
